

ARGIE BONARDA 2007

DEEPER ROOTS.

Argie Andes offers wines that are true ambassadors of Argentina’s terroir. Renowned winemaker Hector Durigutti produces varietals that are symbolic of Argentina’s deeply rooted wine culture.

Argie wines are carefully crafted to express the essence of each of their unique, old-vine vineyards and to celebrate the natural intensity of the fruit flavors typical of each varietal.

Argie Andes Bonarda is harvested from two vineyards in Mendoza: Luján de Cuyo’s Ugarteche Vineyard, planted in 1923, at 3,400 ft. elevation, featuring stark and stony soil; and San Martin’s Montecaseros vineyard, planted in 1958, at 2400 ft. elevation, with sandy, loamy soil. The climate in these two regions is semi-desert with moderate winds, with an average annual rainfall of just 8 inches and 300 sunny days and open skies per year.

TASTING NOTES

Eye

Dark purple.

Nose

Black plums, dried rose petals and brown sugar.

Palate

Full-bodied, with plum, red currants and molasses flavors and a long, smooth finish.

APPELLATION

Luján de Cuyo & San Martin, Mendoza

VARIETAL

100% Bonarda

WINEMAKER

Hector Durigutti

OAK REGIME

7 months in French barrels

ALCOHOL

14.5%

TOTAL ACIDITY

5.5 g/L

UPC

8 13890 01202 8

SUGAR

3.6 g/L

pH

3.8

WWW.PUREARGENTINAWINES.COM

