

COCCINELLES ROUGE 2007

“Coccinelles” means “ladybug”, an insect widely perceived as a symbol of healthy plants, just as Domaine des Coccinelles is a traditional wine from a vineyard that strictly follows the precepts of “l’agriculture biologique” (organic farming). Managed by the fourth generation of a family dedicated to earth-friendly practices, Domaine des Coccinelles uses the most progressive methods in their farming.

Of the 98 acres of vines, 25 acres are always in rotation for soil replenishment, which lasts seven years. During this time, the land is planted to other crops, such as grain and corn. The rocky clay and limestone soil is tilled 10 times during the growing season to aerate it, allowing rain to penetrate, because the vineyard is not irrigated. The vines are never treated; instead the drying mistral (persistent winds blowing through the Rhone Valley) inhibits any rotting of the grapes.

TASTING NOTES

Eye

Ruby red, with garnet highlights.

Nose

Complex bouquet of gooseberry and violet.

Palate

Full on the mouth, with smooth tannins, notes of sweet spices, luscious fruits like ripe raspberry and black currant, rich concentration.

ACCOLADES

Wine Spectator 88 POINTS, BEST VALUE (2006)

APPELLATION

Côtes du Rhône
Contrôlée, Rhône
River Valley

VARIETAL

Grenache, Syrah,
Mourvedre,
Carignan, Cinsault

ALCOHOL

14%

UPC

7-14620-13610-2

