

VALLE PERDIDO MALBEC RESERVE 2006

DEEPER ROOTS.

Valle Perdido is one of Argentina's fastest rising stars, led by renowned winemakers Alberto Antonini and Hector Durigutti. Their single-estate vineyard is located in one of Argentina's newest winegrowing regions – Patagonia. The winery takes its name from a 16th century legend of a sacred “Lost Valley” and its enchanted city that was inhabited by peaceful, happy ghosts, living in golden domes adorned with countless precious jewels. Like the fable of Brigadoon, this lost city is shrouded by mists and remains hidden from all non-believers.

Valle Perdido's state-of-the-art, gravity flow winery is located on the 39th southern parallel, and is considered to be one of the southernmost vineyards in the world. Its pristine irrigation water is sourced from nearby glacier snowmelt and the alluvial sandy vineyard soil is free-draining and naturally low-yielding. Long sunshine hours and cool Patagonian nights give Valle Perdido's wines excellent natural acidity and allow grape to reach optimum maturity for harvesting.

TASTING NOTES

Eye

Deep purple.

Nose

Blackberry and rose petals.

Palate

Elegant and complex, with tastes of clove, spicy oak and cherry.

ACCOLADES

91 POINTS

VALLE PERDIDO MALBEC RESERVE 2006

APPELLATION

Neuquen, Patagonia

VARIETAL

100% Malbec

WINEMAKER

Alberto Antonini & Hector Durigutti

OAK REGIME

14 months in French and American barrels

ALCOHOL

14.0%

TOTAL ACIDITY

6.1 g/L

SUGAR

2.4 g/L

pH

3.7

UPC

8 13890 01101 4

WWW.PUREARGENTINAWINES.COM

